

prejudice diversity conflict identity nationalism disgust tolerance aggression multicultural anger immigration roots equality hierarchy discrimination self American culture exclusion minority status unconscious group domination patriotism justice ethnicity harmony threat power belonging conflict affiliation stereotype bias fear racism implicit collective sexism frustration political 499

Become a Research Assistant in social psychology !

- Gain valuable research experience
- Receive credit for PSY 499 (Special Study) or 497 (Senior Project)

Activities include:

- Assisting in the development and preparation of research materials
- Programming of computerized experiments (training provided)
- Data collection: running experimental sessions
- Assisting in data management and analyses
- Participation in regular meetings with collaborators

Skills required:

- Highly organized and detail-oriented
- Excellent communication skills
- Ability to master quickly new technical skills

If you are interested, please contact:

Thierry Devos
Office: LS 273
Phone: 594-6911
Email: tdevos@mail.sdsu.edu